

Adult Confirmation/Reception Class 2018

Group Norms

...in no particular order...

We all need and want community and hope to find it here.

We give ourselves permission to question everything without fear of criticism or embarrassment because we've agreed not to criticize or judge one another.

We commit ourselves to continuing to ask questions.

We will work at intentionally being vulnerable while in this class.

We commit to not interrupting one another or cross-talk, leaving some people out.

We will meet in a physically comfortable environment.

We will use nametags and ask one another's name when needed without feeling guilty.

We will use permission slips each time we gather.

There will be opportunities in each class to share, discuss, and interact with one another.

Each of us will self-monitor sharing time to allow time and space for others to share also.

We give ourselves permission to not share and to hold back when we need to.
